Maribeth explains what she does

Bob Hickman: Hey, Tubies. It's Psychic Bob. Oh, I tell you, I'm so excited to be back with you. It's Friday. Do you know what that means? Free for all Friday. That's right. We always have something new. And a few weeks ago I had an interview guest on here, another psychic, and you loved it. You said, "Psychic Bob, we want more interviews and we want to know about all sorts of things." So many of you have been writing to me.

Bob Hickman: First of all, I will say thank you to all the new subscribers, all the new people. So many of you have written to me and been asking questions about animals. Some you said, "Did my dog go to heaven?" "You know what happens to our pets when they die?" All of these questions and they're so vital and important. I said, "I love animals as much as you do, as many you know, I've been talking to mom's little dog Grizzly. We've been having a lot of fun.

Bob Hickman: I thought today I'd bring you guys a very, very special treat. We have a wonderful friend of mine here. I've been friends with this lady probably over 10 years now. Wonderful lady. Her name is Maribeth Decker and she is a pet psychic. I'm going to let her come in here and say hello to all of you.

Bob Hickman: Maribeth, why don't you tell us that your name and what you do? Did I call you correct by calling you a pet psychic?

Maribeth Decker: Yeah, yeah, I answer to that. I usually use animal communicator. That's a lot of fun to say too. So thanks. I'm Maribeth Decker. I'm with sacredgrove.com and I talk to animals. I have two-way conversations with your animals to find out ... Well, a lot of people come to me to find out why they're doing that thing they're doing. I don't know how else to say it politely, but there's things that just drive us nuts and also to find out how they're feeling, to find out even if they're ready to pass on or even to talk to them after they'd passed on.

Maribeth Decker: And then in telling them, we can tell them about upcoming surgeries, changes in the family. Animals are just like people, if you tell them what's going on, they chill out. So it's really a lovely thing that you can actually communicate with your animals and find out what's going on and talk to each other.

Do animals go to heaven?

Bob Hickman: I love that. You know, I get so many letters. People send say, "Psychic Bob, my animals, will I get to see them in heaven someday?" What do you say when people ask you that?

Maribeth Decker: I say absolutely. Oh my goodness, I'm crying. I think just like you, I believe that we have soul families who love us and stay with us. I believe that our animals are our soul families, too. When you talk about heaven, if the animals you love aren't there, that ain't heaven. Let's be honest. That's nobody's version of heaven who loves their animals as much as we do. So yes, they're going to be there. I know that they come and check in on us. I've met so many people, including myself, who've had experiences of connecting with their animals after they've passed. They're doing well, and so it's really good news. Yeah, they're still around. They're still waiting for us.

Addressing the Myth: no one survives death

Atheist becomes a believer

Bob Hickman: See, I love that because you know there's this common, I call it myth, a false belief that's been going around the world. This Darwinian concept that we're all just a bunch of matter and nothing lives eternally. Now we know that's not true. But people, even I think diehard skeptics ... I knew a guy, I had to tell you a story, he was a diehard atheist and his cat died. And he said to me, he said, "I didn't believe in life after death," he said until he said, "I kept hearing my cat meowing in the house after his death." So he thought another cat had got in. Well, he set up a video camera and his cat, in ghost form, it literally was translucent walked every night across the camera and I saw the films. So he now is a believer in spirit life.

Maribeth's dog makes her a believer

Maribeth Decker: It only takes one time. In the beginning, before I knew I could do this, my dog Timmy showed up after he had passed and it's funny to me because I've got to go like this. I'm at the stove cooking a badly cooked dinner because that's not my forte, and out of the corner of my eye I see Timmy. He's not a see-through ghost. This guy is as if he's sitting there looking at me with one ear up and one of your down smiling like all get out. I turn and I go, "Timmy," and he's gone. I've said this before, but it never gets old, that moment I knew our animals, they survive death, they're happy and they love us and take the time to tell us that they're still okay. I got all that from that tiny little visit. He's good, he's happy and he wants to tell me he's good and he's happy.

Bob Hickman: I love that. I love that. Maribeth, you've got to hold on just a minute. I've got a bunch of shout outs I've got to give acknowledgement to. We've got a lot of people on chat today. They're very excited about you being here. I want to give a shout out to Maureen McLaughlin and who's here. Hi Maureen.

Maribeth Decker: Hi Maureen.

Bob Hickman: Debbie Webby's here. Simba's here all the way from Germany. Maria Serrata is here. Tina Songs is here. Chilled fox is here. Hi guys, welcome so much. Christine C. is here. And people are really excited, Maribeth.

Bob Hickman: Christine C. just said, "I have so many animals. I love this show." So thank you for being here. Well you know to have Maribeth, it's a real treat. Maribeth, I thought maybe you could tell us a little bit about how you got into being a psychic and how you discovered your gifts. People are asking, they're saying, "How did she come to discover her psychic gifts?" Maybe tell us a little bit about that.

How Maribeth got started

Maribeth Decker: Well, I always have to tell the truth, because I'd like to say, "I came out of my mother's womb speaking to animals." Wouldn't that be a great story? But it's not true. So I can't tell you that one. What is true is I started working on my spiritual side. Let's see. How shall I go? How should I do this?

Maribeth Decker: When I was a kid somewhere about seventh, middle school, seventh or eighth grade, I had a spiritual experience of God. Creator is probably a better word. I knew that God was real. You're 12 or 13 and you go, "What do I do with this?" Coming from my background it was like, "I don't know who to tell." So you keep going on.

Maribeth Decker: I had a career in the Navy, working in association. Then I started doing Reiki. I became a Reiki master and that is when my animals started communicating with me. And Bob, the work I did with you opening me up. Right? That's part of my journey.

Bob Hickman: Maribeth and I go back years.

Maribeth discovers that animal communicators/pet psychics exist!

Maribeth Decker: I've got to say, I did not know there were animal communicators or pet psychics. I was shocked. So I went to my friend and she says, "Oh yeah, yeah. I talked to one." So from there and my animals, more than one, more than Timmy started, I started hearing them or seeing them or feeling them. That's where I started getting trained because I wanted to do it on purpose and I wanted to do it accurately. Right? Who wants to waste people's time? I don't want to make this stuff up. I want to help people.

Maribeth Decker: The other thing I've found is when you work with people who love their animals, I know they're bringing you the animal to talk to them. People's hearts are so open. It is such a delight to work with people and their animals when they're in that space of, "I've got to find out what's going on with my animal." Even if they're driving you nuts, you still come to me with lots of love. So I was hooked. I've been hooked.

Bob Hickman: I love that. It's true, Maribeth. We'd go back many years. A few years ago, actually a year ago, a little more than a year ago now, my beloved mom's Chihuahua, many of you knew him, Jake passed away. Maribeth was very helpful to me at that time. She reminded me, "Don't get into despair," because we love our animals so much, it's easy to go into that dark place when an animal passes, isn't it?

Maribeth Decker: It is.

Bob Hickman: And don't you think Maribeth, society tries to tell us, "Oh, just get over. It's just an animal,"? Don't you hate that?

Book, Peace in Passing: Comfort for Loving Humans during Animal Transitions

Maribeth Decker: That's why I wrote this book. I've got to show you. It's Peace in Passing: Comfort for Loving Humans during Animal Transitions. That's one of the things that I ... That's what the myth says, "It was just a dog. It was just a cat. It was just a Guinea pig." Well, for goodness sakes, some of those animals who have treated us better than the humans that were supposed to treat us good. Those animals have been there for us and have been closer and more constant with their love than some of the folks that we might've thought would have been doing that for us. It's a huge loss for many of us.

Bob Hickman: Well, I tell you, I credit my mom's new dog. She got a dog after Grizzly died. A neighbor had to move and couldn't take the dog for whatever reason. This little Yorkie has come to live with her. You all have seen him this week in my videos. I tell you, that dog, I credit that dog with giving her new life because she was really bad last year and now she's flying.

Maribeth Decker: Isn't that wonderful? Animals do ... I think it's a relationship that works both ways. They give to us and we give to them. There's really a spiritual reason for us being together.

Bob Hickman: Absolutely. Maribeth, I'm gonna throw out a comment here. One of our viewers. Matt B just sent in a note. He says, "I've read a few near death experiences where pets have verbally communicated with their owners." What do you say to that? Do you need me to repeat it? Did you hear it?

Near death experiences

Maribeth Decker: Near death? People are having near death experiences and the animals have communicated with them or how is it?

Bob Hickman: Yes. He says ... Let me just read it. "I've read a few near death experiences where pets have verbally communicated with their owners."

Maribeth Decker: I think I've had some experiences where in the other way, maybe because I'm talking to animals, where animals have clearly communicated with their people as their death comes close, so I'm sure it works the other way around. We're doing theory now, but possibly because you're getting closer to moving across the veil, the connection becomes stronger. I think that's got to be true. You're just more open to listening.

Maribeth Decker: I know my friend Michelle, after we just talked about this subject, her dog Glo communicated to her about how she wanted to transition - she wanted to be on the front lawn, a favorite blanket with all the kids around and mom and dad and some of the kids were in college, so she had to gather them because that's how she wanted to go. And then they were able to do that for her. Right?

Bob Hickman: Oh, so the whole family gathered with him.

Maribeth Decker: The whole family gathered. I'm sure it's the other way around where you're just more open and if you're close to crossing over... You're vibrating at some interesting level, I'm assuming, where the communication can happen. Thanks for that comment.

Bob Hickman: I love that. Thank you, Matt. That's really fascinating. Kimmy D. just reaches us. She says, "Ah, I have four Chihuahuas." That's a house full, isn't it?

Maribeth Decker: That's a house full. That's a lot of energy there.

Animals have feelings, too

Bob Hickman: Chill Fox just made a comment to say, "Animals have feelings too. They deserve love too." Isn't that beautiful?

Maribeth Decker: Absolutely. It just blows my mind. Science even had this theory that animals were just mechanical beings, animated mechanical beings and they had no feelings and no thoughts. It was just a stimulus response. They're so far off. Now you research the science, you're going to find out that there's ... They've done studies where they can tell when dogs have this Eureka feeling like they solved a problem and something in the brain lights up, the same as it does with humans like, "Aha!" Dogs are easier to work with when you want to do experiments. Try to get a cat to sit down them somewhere and tell you something, that ain't going to happen.

Bob Hickman: Do you remember that old saying that cats remembered then when they were worshiped as gods.

Maribeth Decker: I believe that. Oh God, they're still on that trip, aren't they?

Bob Hickman: Yeah.

Maribeth Decker: So feelings, absolutely. They've got the science now to back it, where they can see where parts of the brain lights up. They even found in dogs and I'm sure they'll find other animals, there is a part of the brain that that hears words very similarly to how people hear words, process words, so they've got that. They're closer to us than we think. Right?

Bob Hickman: I love that. Maribeth, I don't know if you're up to it today, but I thought maybe if I could throw out a question from somebody here, maybe you might want to give a little psychic insight to this person?

Maribeth Decker: Let's see what happens. If I don't get anything, don't send me bad juju, okay?

Bob Hickman: No, no. Everybody here on my channel knows how it works.

Maribeth Decker: Okay.

Trinny has heart problems

Bob Hickman: They're all very open. She writes, Kimmy D. writes, "My little dog is having problems with her heart. She coughs constantly and I'm afraid she's dying." Do you have anything you might want to say to her about that?

Maribeth Decker: What's your dog's name? That really helps me. And what kind of dog?

Bob Hickman: Kimmy, do you have the dog's name? I hope she gets this. Hold on. She said that she's a rescue dog. Kimmy D., do you have your dog's name so we can tune into him? There's a little bit of a delay. Maribeth, so it might take us a little.

Maribeth Decker: Yeah, yeah. I feel like I'm connecting, but the name really helps.

Bob Hickman: Sure. I don't see anything coming in here. Okay. Kimmy D., if you hear this, send us the name of your pet. Put it in the chat and Maribeth will take a look at that.

Maribeth, that brings up this whole point. It's very interesting because as you know, I come out of the spiritualist church background.

Names help us connect psychically

Bob Hickman: I find many times in the spiritual church that name helps as well. Someone will say, "Tell me about your son," or "Tell me about my son," and I'll say, "What's his name?" They'll say, "Jimmy Joe," or whatever. Then I like, whoa. It just brings me right in because our names are really connected to us, aren't they?

Maribeth Decker: They are. There's something that happens when I hear the name that makes it just easier.

Reading for Trinny

Bob Hickman: Okay. I've got the name actually. The name is Trinny.

Maribeth Decker: Trinny. Okay.

Bob Hickman: I hope I'm saying that right, Kimmy D.

Maribeth Decker: Well, I'm gonna say Kimmy. Yeah, this is a tough time for Trinny. What I'm doing is I do have a sense of the physical. Trinny, I'm going to guess is a girl and if I'm wrong, I'm sorry, Trinny.

Bob Hickman: Yeah, she is. She confirmed. She's a Chihuahua, she says.

Maribeth Decker: Okay. Trinny. Okay. Gotcha. Hi. Trinny. Here's what I'm feeling and you use your own intuition as well to verify this. There's a little bit of fear about what's going on with her right now. She's afraid of how hard it is to breathe. From me to you, Kimmy, what I would say is, let's tell her that no matter what happens, you are going to take care of her all the way. She can relax and know that she's well taken care of because we cannot promise our animals everlasting life. I'm sorry, we cannot do that. But what we can promise is love and care so that it says if ... You can picture it, which you probably do, is holding her and saying, "I got it. You can relax. I'm going to make you comfortable."

Maribeth Decker: Anything that you could do to make her more comfortable without ... She wants to be part of the family still. However, it's getting harder, so anything you can do to make her calm, calm it down and let her know that she's safe even through this part of her life. And if it gets better, great. And if it doesn't, she's still good.

Bob Hickman: I want to give you confirmation on that.

Maribeth Decker: Okay. All right. Thank you.

Bob Hickman: The dog is 10 years old, she says. She's getting up there. So you're absolutely right. It's getting harder.

Maribeth Decker: Okay. All right, all right. I can never predict how long or how, but I can say that she is having a hard time and the comfort that you give her and the being there for her, put your feelings aside and just be the strongest person you can be for her. It's going to make her feel so much better and maybe give her some more time.

Bob Hickman: And Kimmy D. says, "Do you pick up if my dog has a message for me?" Does she have a message you can say to her? Because you're really good at that. I know.

Maribeth Decker: Alrighty. Alrighty. Trinny, what do you want to say? There's something about barking. It doesn't seem very deep. I was hoping for something hugely deep here. Almost like, "I'm sorry." There's a lot of barking, isn't there? I'm sorry. And I suppose maybe that she's talking about the coughing too. What else, Trinny? Give me something sweet. Well, I'm seeing her giving you almost love kisses and nibbles and things like that through the years in here the message that I'm getting through. There is total trust and love there.

Maribeth Decker: She would like to be in charge all the time, but she gets that sometimes she can't and she's okay with that. She's coming to terms with that at 10. Okay. So that's what I'm getting and she's okay with that. Okay. All right.

Bob Hickman: Thank you so much. Well, thank you for your question, Kimmy. I hope that makes some sense to you. Maribeth, if you're up it, I'll throw another question at you.

Maribeth Decker: Okay.

Sierra just had puppies

Bob Hickman: Alright. Here in spiritual we all have to work. I'm a task master. I really appreciate this, seriously. Christine C. says, "My dog Sierra just had puppies. Is there anything she needs that I have not provided for her? Does she have any messages?"

Maribeth Decker: Okay.

Bob Hickman: Her dog's name is Sierra.

Maribeth Decker: Sierra. Okay. Sierra, what's going on, babe? Well, she feels a little dramatic and not in a terrible way. It's like, "I am so tired. Do you think you can nurse the puppies for me?" I'm kidding, but there's just some funniness. She's very tired. If there is some food that will give her, seriously, extra energy ... I'm thinking like raw food or something that's close to raw that's slightly cooked that that will help her regain her energy. There's something about almost asking for more physical nutrition right now. That would be very helpful for her. You might even look into some vegetables included in that. Some dogs are happier with that than others. Oh. So she's looking for some help. She's looking for some help to reestablish the strength and get over being tired.

Bob Hickman: Okay. I've got to throw some confirmation your way. Kimmie D just wrote in and said everything you said was 100% accurate about her Chihuahua.

Maribeth Decker: Oh, thank you.

Bob Hickman: And Christine C. wrote and said, "You're absolutely right. We're exploring that because she's having issues with energy. She's tired." Oh, she says it's very helpful for her.

Maribeth Decker: Yeah, she does. I was kind of surprised. It was a little dramatic, but I think that she wanted me to get it. Well, thank you so much for the confirmation.

Bob Hickman: Isn't that wonderful? Here at spiritual we have the best people. You see Maribeth, the wonderful thing about coming here is that everybody's tuned in. All my viewers are very advanced souls and they get this. We're so glad. Thank you for that.

A dog with a sense of humor about the puppy

Bob Hickman: Maribeth, I thought you could tell us maybe a little quick story about maybe one of your favorite psychic cases you've worked on.

Maribeth Decker: I will tell you the one that continues to make me laugh. Thank you. This is an older dog and the people brought me on because he'd been diagnosed with cancer. The good news for people, I've got to say to you, just because a dog or cat has a diagnosis of cancer doesn't mean they're going to fly away because they'll stay on as long as you let them in a lot of cases.

Maribeth Decker: He was acting up. So I came in to talk to him and there's a little puppy in there. I found out, strangely enough, that in his thinking, "There's only been one dog in the family. They brought in a new dog. I'm on the way out. They're going to get rid of me." So he was acting up because he thought they were going to actually re-home him, send him to the shelter, and I said, "Oh no, no, no. They're keeping you until you're ready to go."

Maribeth Decker: But it doesn't end there. I'm sitting with him and the little dog, as puppies do, is just barking incessantly. And in my head I'm saying, "How the heck do they put up with all this puppy barking?" And the old guys says to me, "That's one of the advantages of growing old and losing your hearing." I laughed so hard.

Maribeth Decker: He had a sense of humor about it and a sense of self. That was the my short story about somebody laughing about a puppy.

Evie not great around strangers and other dogs

Bob Hickman: Maribeth, can I interrupt you and throw out another question here for you really quickly?

Bob Hickman: Ree Exton writes and says, "My dog, Evie has not, excuse me, is not great around strangers and other dogs. Could you by any chance tell me why or how to change this please? Thank you." Her dog's name is Evie and is having issues around strangers and other dogs.

Maribeth Decker: Let's see. Evie, what's going on? That's my kitty in the background. Sorry about that. This probably doesn't come as any surprise, but what I feel is what I would call almost fear/aggression and not a trusting of others. It's too quick to get into what would be the reason for that. I don't think it's anything that happened currently. It may just be, yeah. It doesn't like feel protecting your stuff. It feels like, "Stay away from me. I don't want it. I just don't want it. No, no, no, no, no. We're not doing this."

Maribeth Decker: So come to there with a little love and understanding, good dog trainers help. I've got to say that. Animal communication is good to remind her that she's really safe here and you will never put her in a position where she's going to be unsafe. That's the rules of the house. You take over as her protector but it's going to be ... I don't know that it'll be overnight. Okay?

Bob Hickman: I love that. Maribeth, I hate to be short. Guys, we're going to have Maribeth back again soon. Today, both of us have other appointments and unfortunately the interview got started late because of technical issues. But Maribeth, if people want to connect with you, do you do private sessions? Can they sit down and book a session with you or how do they get your book? Or how do they connect to you? Are you doing classes? Tell us a little about how they can connect with you.

- Maribeth Decker: All right. Probably the easiest way for most people is go to my website, Sacredgrove.com.
- Bob Hickman: That link will be in the info box below this video in this video processes. So you will have that link. Thank you.
- Maribeth Decker: So I do remote sessions and yes, you can do it. I do short and long sessions. If you're in the metro DC area where I live, I work out of the veterinary holistic center in Springfield, Virginia. My book is on Amazon. Thank you for asking. I am teaching another class. I want to teach people how to communicate with their own animals. One of my goals is having an animal communicator in every family. That's my way of doing it. So there'll be information about that. If you join my newsletter, you'll hear about that.
- Bob Hickman: Oh, I love that. I think I want to come take your class, Maribeth.
- Maribeth Decker: Oh my goodness.
- Bob Hickman: You guys. Listen, I'm going to tell you seriously take your time and contact her for a reading. She's helped me with my dog issues. My mom was grieving terribly over her dog and Maribeth gave me some very helpful words. She can help you too. I knew so many of you have written to me about your pets, but I'm more of an expert with humans. That's where I work. I'm a human communicator. Maribeth is an animal communicator, a wonderful medium, a channel, a healer, and intuitive. She does it all. Great Educator, great author, and really Maribeth, really a great friend as well.
- Bob Hickman: We go back over 10 years. We really do. As I always say, Maribeth, I say it here and it's true and investment ... A reading, buying a reading is an investment in yourself. For those of who, you love your little pets, you want the best. If you want the best, you need to go with Maribeth and invest that time and energy and effort into a reading assessment. You will not be disappointed. I'm telling you.
- Bob Hickman: Now will you tell us again real quick about your book? What's the name of your book?
- Maribeth Decker: I've got to show it off. Peace in Passing: Comfort for Loving Humans during Animal Transitions. It's stories from myself and from all my friends and clients. They all wanted to put their animals in the book, which you can imagine. The idea is to go through and tell you what we think the truth is about our connection with our animals and how to make it better for ourselves - to be in the place where we remembered them with love instead of with guilt, remorse, and unending grief. I really want to get people to where you feel the love again and that's the main thing that you feel.

Bob Hickman: Maribeth, thank you so much. Guys, we've got to cut this interview short. Maribeth and I both have readings today. The life of a working psychic, it never stops. Thank you for being here with us today guys. We appreciate it. Maribeth, thank you so much. Are there any parting words you want to say to anybody?

Maribeth Decker: I would just like to say that you're probably communicating with your animal's already. If you start paying attention, if you think if my animal could just talk, they just said this, " You just heard you animal talking. So start listening. Start listening for that stuff.

Bob Hickman: Great. Well guys, you heard it from the expert, Maribeth, the animal communicator, the pet psychic. I'll call you the pet psychic. You guys have got to look her up, her links, her phone number and her email will be below this video after processes and in just a few minutes. Maribeth, thank you.

Bob Hickman: Bless you today and thank you to all of you. Come out. Listening, guys keep it here at spiritual. We've got more coming. Tomorrow is Saturday, I'm going to have something fun, but I'm not sure what we're doing because our schedule is a little different while I'm traveling. I'm so glad we got Maribeth in here.

Bob Hickman: Listen, help me out. Like this video. Favorite it. Share with your friends posts on Facebook. Post it on your website. Tell everybody about spirit channel. Tell them about Maribeth and let them watch this interview. They'll be really blessed. All right guys. Well, we'll see you back here tomorrow for another video. And until then, may all of you always blessed be.
