Maribeth Decker, an intuitive animal communicator, medical intuitive and energy healer, is the founder of SacredGrove.com — Where People and Pets Heal and Connect. She works with pet guardians who dearly love their animals and yet face tough issues. She uses her intuitive animal communication and energetic healing skills to address animals' physical, emotional, and behavior issues.

She is especially gifted in helping pets and their people move gracefully through transitions—into the family, into a new family, or onto the next life.

Maribeth helps people find peace and comfort knowing they have made the right decision for everyone, including their animals. They finally experience that deep, mutual love with their animal they have longed for.

A retired Navy officer, Maribeth's rich personal life experiences have enabled her to bring a wealth of heart-centered wisdom to her work with each client. Her unyielding intention is to consistently bring forth the maximum benefit for all concerned in the most benevolent manner possible.

Maribeth's speaking style is warm and comforting accented by a wicked sense of humor. She's an excellent storyteller and audiences love her.
